Amy, I am just checking in to see if any opportunities have opened up for the Waldens to meet with the Regional Administration?

Thanks.

Thank you for your understanding. I will confer with him next week and see if we can find a time in his calendar for a meeting in California. His schedule is very full until November so I had really hoped to make it work out in Tucson in October.

Amy, thanks for the heads up. That's too bad, though we certainly understand logistics. Nan and Dick have very strong connections in California and Santa Barbara County specifically and find themselves back and forth with some frequency. So if it helps, we can meet the Regional Administrators there or in San Francisco as options.

Nonetheless, Nan and Dick are looking forward to meeting with the Regional Administrator on Rosemont at his earliest convenience.

Thanks.

Amy, October 3 looks good on our end. It would be great for the regional administrator could come down to farm at say 9:00?

We have the day held.

Subject: Request for a meeting with the Regional Administrator

Ms. Miller, as a follow up to our conversation, I am writing on behalf of Farmers Investment Co/Green Valley Pecan to request a meeting with the Regional Administrator regarding the proposed Rosemont Mine.

FICO is the world's largest integrated grower and processor of pecans. They farm approximately 7,000-acres in the Santa Cruz River Valley and employees over 250 employees. FICO has longed been concerned about the impacts of the proposed mine to southern Arizona and specifically to their farm. Rosemont is proposing to pump high quality groundwater from production pumps near their farm and pump 22 miles to the mine site and use it to create potentially toxic mine waste.

Consequently, FICO feels it important that the Regional Administrator is aware of their concerns before he makes any decision on the project.

As we discussed, it would be great for him to visit the farm during his upcoming trip to Tucson so that he can get a firsthand view of the issues FICO is facing.

Feel free to let me know potential dates that will work.

Thank you in advance for your consideration.
